

FAQs for the day of Tallcorn

Do I have to buy tickets for the day festival in advance? How much are tickets?

- You can buy tickets at the door when you get to campus. Tickets for the day portion of the Tallcorn Jazz Festival are $5 for adults and free for children.

Where should I park?

- You can park in the visitor's lot directly north of the Gallagher Bluedorn Performing Arts Center. Turn north off of University Avenue onto either Campus Street or Ohio Street to access this parking lot. Note that if you try to enter campus from the west on 27th street (next to Russell Hall), you will not be able to access the visitor's lot.
- Please do not park in the Russell Hall parking lot. As UNI will still be in session that day, you will receive a ticket if you park in the Russell Hall parking lot, and we will not refund these fines. The visitor's lot is about a 5-minute walk from Russell Hall, and is closer than that to the Gallagher Bluedorn.
- For the night concerts, parking is permitted in the Russell Hall parking lot. Please provide yourself ample time before the 7:15 night concert to get a parking spot, as the lot usually fills up quickly.

Is there a way to see the festival if I can't make it to campus that day?

- Yes! This year's festival will be live streamed. You may access that live stream here for Russell Hall and here for the Gallagher Bluedorn.

Do you provide lunch?

- Yes, we will have a concessions stand on site selling pizza and other food throughout the day. We accept cash and card. You may also eat on campus or ask one of the workers at Tallcorn for advice for places to eat around UNI.

Can I leave a performance and come back later that day?

- Yes, after paying your $5 admittance fee, we will mark your hand and you have unlimited access to all of the performances by bands that day, all of the clinics for the bands if you wish to follow your child for their clinic, and all of the extra workshops with this year's guest artist.

Can I get into the night concert if I buy a ticket to the day festival?

- No, even if you pay for a $5 ticket to the festival during the day, you must purchase a separate ticket to the night Sinfonian Dimensions in Jazz concert.
- We highly encourage you to attend this night show, as UNI has a strong jazz program, and this concert is one of the highlights of every year. You can buy tickets to the night concert here.

When and where are results announced?

- The results for each day will be announced in the Great Hall of the Gallagher Bluedorn Performing Arts Center at 5:30 pm each day. Parents are welcome and encouraged to attend.

How does my child get a t-shirt?

- All participating students receive a free Tallcorn t-shirt as long as they have filled out the survey we sent to their band directors. All they have to do is go to the concessions stand and ask for a t-shirt.

Can I film my child's performance?

- As long as it is not disruptive to the other audience members, you are free to film as you wish. Please note that we will send band directors professional-quality recordings of every band's performance which directors can then forward to you. Also, if you have family members that are unable to attend the festival, invite them to tune into the live stream linked above as well as on the Tallcorn Jazz Festival website.
